Attune and Align Your Energy to Reach Your Full Potential and Create the Life You Desire!

What Are Attunement Products and Why Are They Unique?

The Wise Woman Alchemy Attunement Products™ are more than a mix of essential oils such as an aromatherapy synergy blend, or a mix of tea and herbs, or a blend of herbs and resins into incense. These products are hand-crafted and are energetically, ritually, and alchemically charged to various Qualities and frequencies.

Because of the alchemy and energy work done in creating the products, the Attunement Products™ aligns and attunes you energetically, physically, emotionally, and spiritually with the energies, frequencies, and attributes of various concepts, attitudes, and personal qualities (the "Qualities"). They work to align the subconscious, conscious and super-conscious minds.

Only healthy, natural ingredients are used. In the alchemical process, the energy of seven different crystals is infused into the products, intensifying the energy and vibration of the Attunement Products™. Seven crystals are used to connect with the seven elements; Light, Dark, Shadow, Earth, Air, Water, and Fire. Each Attunement Product™ line uses a different set of crystals which are selected to add their energy qualities to those of the Attunement Product™. As part of the attunement process, a set of seven crystal bowls are used to create a sound grid over the products, again, raising the base energy of the essential oils, herbs, teas, and resins to a higher vibration.

In addition, these Attunement Products are connected to the elements and can be used in meditation and ritual for spiritual development, increasing the presence of the Quality in your life, and integrating the changes more easily.

Wise Woman Alchemy Attunement Products™ are designed to:

- ◆ attune and align your energies and thoughts to various qualities,
- ◆ raise your emotional and energetic vibration,
- ◆ awaken your consciousness, and
- ◆ assist in your personal and spiritual growth.

The Attunement Products™ assist you in attuning your energy and frequencies to be in vibrational alignment with the Qualities of the Attunement Product™ so these Qualities can become part of you.

The Attunement Products™ can be used in healing work, both for yourself or with clients, to assist in healing and transformation processes. They can ease the transformation of a traumatic experience. They can be used to set an internal and external environment of calm serenity, safety, and protection. This allows the experience to be transformed and healed without regressing into the trauma or drama. They can open the subconscious mind allowing access to messages from the subconscious or from Spirit more easily.

The core Attunement Products™ consist of the Attunement Oil™, the Attunement Aura Spray™, the Attunement Tea™, and the Attunement Incense™. They each affect the different senses and aspects of the mind, body, and spirit. The products are designed to work together as each one affects an area more deeply than another. They can also be used alone.

Other Attunement Products™ such as the bath salts, lotion, body wash, and candles add depth and support the alignment and attunement on different levels. The body care products especially allow you to connect to the Qualities as part of your everyday routine.

How Do They Work?

The Attunement Products™ go beyond the powerful effects of aromatherapy because they are designed to work with all of the senses. Due to the way these products are created, they have high vibration energy and through resonance will raise your vibration to match. They work with the elements of earth, air, fire, and water to assist in shifting your energy to align with the Qualities of the Attunement Product™.

The Attunement Oil™

The essential oils in the Attunement Oils™ work with the element of Earth as the oils are a concentrated distillation of the plants, herbs, and resins.

The Attunement Oil™ works mostly on the subtle body of the aura and your energy to attune and align them to the Qualities. They also work on the subconscious and conscious mind to open up new pathways of thought.

All of the Attunement Oils™ are diluted to the recommended dilution of 10% in a mix of carrier oils of Almond Oil and Jojoba Oil. There is no further need to dilute or extra expense in purchasing additional bottles or carrier oils to use the essential oils safely. The Attunement Oils™ are for external use only and not to be used while pregnant.

The Attunement Aura Spray™

The Attunement Aura Spray™ works much like the Attunement Oil™. The essential oils in the Attunement Aura Spray™ are much more diluted and work directly on the auric field to shift your energies. They work with the elements of Earth and Water. This is an easy method to use, just spritz around your aura and body, especially the head area. A gem elixir is made from the set of seven crystals for the individual Attunement Product™ and this elixir is used as the base of the Attunement Aura Spray™.

The Attunement Tea™

The Attunement Tea™ works with the elements of Earth, Water, and Fire. The heated water extracts the volatile oils and components of the herbs and makes them easily absorbed by the body when you drink the tea. The Attunement Teas™ work mostly on the physical body to bring it into alignment and attunement with the Qualities of the Attunement Tea™. The herbs selected for the Attunement Tea™ are either the same as the essential oil, or work in synergy with the oils.

The Attunement Incense™

The Attunement Incense™ works with the elements of Air and Fire. It activates and works on the aura and the psyche. There is a deep cellular memory and mass consciousness that connects the fumes of incense to The Divine. From ancient times on, incense has been used in Temples and in religious and spiritual rites and ceremonies to open and access the Spiritual body and planes. The smoke is known to purify and sanctify the air. The Attunement Incense™ is made from 100% natural herbs, resins, and barks. No salt-peter, synthetic fragrances, or other toxic chemicals have been used.
